Helen Keller's Hand.

We saw Helen Keller and heard her speak at the Masonic temple Saturday night, when she appeared for the Stonewall Jackson chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, and we could imagine it was the first time that her lips became unsealed.

After all the struggle, study and the pains, the curtain was drawn aside and the great marvel revealed at the rippling moment like some slowly developed plant that had been long tured and at last was putting forth its perfect blossom to be seen only on that day and at that hour.

Someone has said at watching a restless sea that never did he feel more his impotence and insignificance.

This feeling somewhat such was ours as we gazed upon this miracle of the present day.

At the first gesture we noticed her hand and it flashed upon us what all this hand is to her. "Tis her true vehicle of light, it is her eyes, her ears, her very life, her soul. All that is best in sweet communion with the world, it brings and by the side of the richest argosies of thought lays it at her feet.

Milton was supposed to say in speaking of the voice of his daughter interpreter:

"It hath made my small and scanty room peopled with glowing visions of the past."

This hand gives not only the glowing visions of the past to Helen Keller, but all that is in the wakeful present and the picture that purpose and ambition yet is to give through patience and achievement.

To better explain this thought it should not be necessary to refer to the specially arranged books over which this hand (if we may say it) seems to pore, and to hear her relate events you can see that descriptive literature must almost be absorbed by her and felt to its fullest, even to hearing the songs of birds, seeing green fields and the shade, the gorgeous morning and the bright blue sea.

Where all does this hand lead her? It carries her on the fleetest wings of thought, simply smoothing the pages of music. She hears the strains of Weber and the "Liesbes Herz of Strauss." Touching the unheated statures of a buried city she hears the battle cry of Sesostris or feeling the cruel lips of another she sees the murderous Caligula before her. Touching the bold features of Franklin's image bring the lightning's flash and by merely whisking the pages of Dickens, Field and Poe, she in turn hears the sobbing at the bedside of little Nell, children's laughing voices and the tinkling of a thousand bells.

Her fingers distinguish fabrics better than we who see with eyes. Precious stones are told from one another as a mother knows her children. The quality of metals is discerned by this hand, the touchstone of Lydia. She notices things we never see and stores them for memory to run before her like the reels of the movies hour by hour. We in our little cell see not beyond the walls. 'Tis we, poor we, who are blind.

L. XIII Club Meets.

SALEM, Feb. 12.—The L. XIII Sewing Club met at the home of Miss Velma Bartle on West Main street Friday evening. The hostess informed the members that they would not be admitted unless they were dressed in the extreme fashion, prophesied for 1926. The young ladies were all admitted, having dressed according to the wishes of the hostess, and if one wishes to know more concerning the fashion of that year call on some of those present.

Miss Adah Roby was the whole show and the joke of the evening. The evening was spent in doing fancy work. Vocal and instrumental music was rendered to keep the young ladies tuned up for the work and style of the evening.

After a short business meeting, conducted by the president, Miss Beatty, a very dainty luncheon was served, the hostess serving in a fashion of 1926. At a late hour the club dispersed to meet at the home of Miss Perine next Friday evening.

Those present were Misses Glenna Perine, Adah Roby, Pay Board, Hazel Beatty, Florence Doty, Opal Coffman, Faye Coffendaffer, Nellie Randolph, Hazel Davis, Lois Hinds, Velma Bartle and Ethel Davis.

Engagement Announced.

The engagement of Miss Nellie Winslow Glass of Columbus, O., to Captain O. W. Pinkston, of the Medical Corps of the United States Army, has been announced. Miss Glass is a guest of her sister, Mrs. Osman E. Swartz, and the marriage will be quietly solemnized early in March in the home of Mrs. Swartz on West Main street.

February Meeting.

The February meeting of the Daniel Davidson Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution was held in the home of Mrs. James W. Williams on West Main street from 3 to 5 o'clock Monday afternoon.

Upon the arrival of the members the hostess served tea and wafers. Mrs. Dudley D. Britt presided at the tea table, which had for its centerpiece crimson carnations, and was assisted in serving the guests by Mrs. Albert W. Rapp. Later interesting papers were read by Mrs. Cecil C. Jarvis on "The Mohawk Trail," and Mrs. Anson D. Farr on "The National Old Trails Road."

Tuesday Club Meets.

With Mrs. Harry T. Wilson as leader, assisted by Mrs. Lynn S. Horner and Mrs. Harry B. Curtin a very interesting meeting of the Tuesday Literary Club was held Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Lynn S.

Horner. The "Roumanians" was the study for the afternoon and the following papers were read and discussed:

"Roumania, Past and Present"..... Samuelson
"From Memory's Shrine"..... Carmen Sylva
"A Real Queen's Fairy Stories"..... Helen Varcosco
"Songs of the Valiant Vainode"..... Helen Varcosco
"Pawns of Liberty"..... Tsanoff
Federation topic: "Woman's Reformatory"..... Miss Etta McKeehan

Girls Are Entertained.

Miss Ella Howard entertained at her home Tuesday evening at Northville in honor of the Northville Independence basketball girls. Various games and music were rendered during the evening. The lucky one in getting the booby prize was Miss Margaret Leuliette and Adrain De Meester was the lucky winner of the engagement ring. There were two tables beautifully decorated in red and white and narcissus, the basketball colors. At a late hour refreshments were served by Mr. Howard and Mrs. Charles Moine, Jr.

Those who enjoyed the evening were Charlotte and Margaret Leuliette, Germaine Charles, Augusta Chapell, Vivian L. Chapell, Lillian Powell, Eugenia Kopp, Leah Caussion, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moine, Jr., and Ella Howard; Messrs. Adrian DeMeester, Fred and Frank Deaneaux, James Barnes, Philip Vlecht, Hugo Spelsburger and Lynn Howard.

Will Initiate.

Announcement was made at the regular meeting of the Elks lodge Tuesday night that there would be initiations next Tuesday night. This was found necessary on account of the large number now eligible for initiation, three being more than can be initiated Tuesday night, February 22, the date which had been previously fixed. The class initiated next Tuesday night will be regarded a part of the class of Washington's birthday night, when there will be initiations and a social session. The latter will be held in honor of the "baby" Elks, and the affair is expected to be among the best in the history of the lodge.

Leon N. Reefer, of Wheeling, grand district deputy, has accepted an invitation to pay his annual official visit to the lodge Tuesday night, February 22.

Parsonage Wedding.

Warren S. Linger and Miss Ralda Horner, of Lewis county, were married at 3:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the parsonage of the Methodist Episcopal church by the Rev. W. B. King, pastor of the church. Mr. Linger is a well known and prominent merchant of Vandana and he and Mrs. Linger will reside there.

To Give Recital.

Miss Beatrice Fitzwater, pianist and reader, will give a recital at the Fair View Baptist church, Stop 24, New Fair Grounds, February 15 at 8 p. m., under the auspices of the Fair Grounds Mothers' Club.

Miss Fitzwater studied at West Virginia Wesleyan College and the New England Conservatory of Music in Boston, Mass. She is also a graduate of the Greeley School of Elocution and Dramatic Art of Boston and New York. She is at present teaching elocution at the state normal school at Fairmont. Miss Fitzwater has traveled extensively throughout the East and middle West, and has been well received everywhere.

C. W. Chenoweth, instructor in public speaking at Harvard University, says: "Miss Fitzwater is remarkable not only for present excellence but for the growth in her art evidenced at each new appearance."

Entertained at Fairmont.

The ladies of the Narcissus Club were very delightfully entertained Wednesday afternoon by one of its non resident members, Mrs. W. H. Moore, at her home at Fairmont. The ladies went to Fairmont on the 12:30 p. m. interurban trolley car and returned on the 6:30 car, all reporting a very pleasant trip. The afternoon was spent in fancy work and social converse. Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. J. C. Crimm.

The guests were Mrs. Frank Swisher, Mrs. Charles Moine, Mrs. August Malfrege, Mrs. A. W. Ashenfelder, Mrs. Eugene Rolland, Mrs. Bert Stamm and Mrs. J. C. Crimm.

New Millinery Store.

Mrs. James E. Beedy has installed a beautiful, fashionable millinery store at 201 West Main street in the location formerly occupied by Mrs. Sturm. It will be known as the Burton millinery store and will be open for business Saturday, February 13. Mrs. Walter P. Burton will take charge and manage. The spring opening will be advertised in a few days and will include a great surprise for Clarksburg ladies.

Married at Parsonage.

Miss Hattie L. Bailey and Frank Trovato, both of this city, were married at 3:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the parsonage of the First Methodist Episcopal church by the Rev. W. R. King.

Leap Year Ball.

The members of the Thursday Bridge Club of Fairmont, have issued invitations to a number of Clarksburg's social set, for a Leap Year rose colored ball they will give on Thursday evening, February 17, at the Fairmont Country Club. It promises to be one of the most brilliant social affairs of the season. Several figures of the cotillion will be danced.

It will be a subscription ball and the proceeds will be given by the club to the Cook hospital.

Surprise Party.

Friends of Curtis Davidson, of the

New Fair Grounds Addition, tendered him a delightful surprise party at the home of his parents, Mr. and J. N. Davidson, on the occasion of his seventeenth birthday. Games and music were the diversions of the evening. At a seasonable hour refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Myrtle Webster and Mrs. Virginia McCann. Mr. Davidson received a number of useful presents.

Those present were Misses Lucile Stealey, Fredaline Powell, Maude Richards, Annie Cunningham, Pearl Ansley, Hazel Lemons, Beulah High, Gertrude and Virginia McCann, Pearl Shafer, Dulcie James, Hattie McClung, Mary Webster, Bertha Fortney, Maude and Pearl Page, Daisy and Stacia Bennett, Nina and Esther Mick, Rose Rogers and Eva Nicholson; and Messrs. H. L. Demasters, A. P. W. Flanagan, Fred Squires, Hoyt Reed, Boyd Wilson, G. E. Wood, M. J. Shackelford, Michael Zafout, Roy Cain, Clyde Stanley, Elmer Wansley, Hugh Carder, Ellis Doffmire, Otho Erwin, Jennings Burnside, Robert Webster, Howard Gibson, Gail Freeman, Emmet Bennett, Archie Ralnes, John Collins, Sydney Griffith, Linton and Glay McCann, Harland and Burr Swisher, Howard and Jennings Smith, Horace and Howard Riley and Aubrey and Audley Davidson.

Meeting Postponed.

The annual congregational meeting of the First Presbyterian church will be held Thursday evening, February 17, in the church, instead of Thursday evening of this week, a postponement having been made necessary.

A Successful Affair.

The "Made in America" supper and social Wednesday evening at the Baptist church was a great success. Over 300 people were served and entertained, first, by having to secure their excursion tickets over the "Sociability" railroad line at a very clever ticket office with Albert Haurbie as ticket agent. Mr. Watson then ushered all into a very realistic passenger waiting room, where a clever train announcer, "Jack" Cottrill, called trains over a number of lines, leaving Minneapolis station, passengers eagerly scanning their tickets meanwhile. When the excursion, Division No. 1, which carried 108 persons, was announced, Ray Renshaw and Charles Ruck, as gate keepers, allowed the number to pass the gate, securing their baggage, a plate, and the long trip from the far North to the sunny South, had started. Each station on the route furnished some article of food. The station was a table presided over by two women. Minneapolis furnished rolls; Chicago, baked ham; Boston, Boston baked beans; Pittsburg, relishes; Atlanta, salad.

The conductor, Mr. Boynton, then directed all to stop over at Jacksonville, which was down stairs in the dining room. On arriving there after a perilous trip, they were met by Mr. Lawson, a booster for the Sunshine coffee house in the Jacksonville palm garden, where the train waited fifteen minutes for supper. All were seated at nine attractive tables and were served cake, coffee and tropical fruits by the coffee house girls.

This room was very beautiful with hundreds of flags, many palms and flowers. Delightful music was furnished by Miss Pearcey with Davis, Burkham and Tyler's handsome electric violoncello during supper.

The train caller then announced that the train would return direct from Jacksonville to Clarksburg, (church auditorium.) Mr. Blaney pointed the passage over this trip, and all were at home again, and were delightfully entertained here by piano and vocal numbers, violin solos and trio, recitations and quartets.

Immediately Division No. 2 started and the same outline followed. Also third division.

Joe Griffin was a typical newsboy who worked hard selling newspapers, his shrill cry, "Minneapolis papers, all about the Sociability excursion," being very clever.

The new society, Willing Workers, under whose direction this supper and social was given, has an enviable record so far. The society is less than three months old, a mere baby yet, and has a membership of thirty-seven active members. Every member but one, who has been two months out of town, contributed to the success of the evening by her presence, and by unbounded interest and enthusiasm. The society is very grateful to the men who so ably assisted in the success of the evening.

Knights Enjoy Dance.

The dance given Wednesday night in the St. Mary's high school auditorium by Clarksburg Council No. 872, Knights of Columbus, was enjoyed by more than sixty couples and was one of the most elaborate affairs given by this order in many months. Dancing was started at 9 o'clock and from that time until the Cadenza orchestra played its last piece at 12 o'clock all present enjoyed every minute.

The auditorium was artistically decorated with palms, ferns, potted plants and flowers. The orchestra was located on the stage and was surrounded with plants and palms. The entire room was brightly lighted and crowded with the large number of dancers made a pretty picture.

At a late hour dainty refreshments were served. The committee in charge of the dance was, J. J. Devine, William Mulheran, F. L. McGraw, M. A. Mannix, John A. Flaherty and John A. Coughlin.

Men's Club Meets.

The Men's Club of Christ Episcopal church, held its February meeting in the parish house Wednesday evening and an interesting talk was given by Dr. L. M. Robinson, of Shinnston, on the parables of "The Lost Coin" and "The Prodigal Son."

Beautiful Bridge Luncheon.

A beautifully appointed Thursday bridge luncheon was given Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Dudley D. Britt, in honor of her sister, Mrs. Thomas W. Pettigrew, of New York, who will return home Thursday night. The floral decorations were carried out by L. A. France roses and amilax. Six tables were pleasantly arranged through the rooms, which were adorned with pink shaded candles in crystal holders. The place cards were bon-bon baskets in rosebud design. Covers were laid for twenty-four guests and later auction bridge was played at small tables.

Among the out-of-town visitors included in the guest list were Mrs. Pettigrew, Miss Raymond, of Newton, Mass.; Miss Nelle Glass, of Columbus, O.; and Miss Katherine Burns of Huntington.

Circle Is Entertained.

The members of the East End Sewing Club were delightfully entertained by Mrs. John McNeil from 8 to 11 o'clock Tuesday evening. Quite a number of the members were present and fancy work was the pleasant diversion. At ten o'clock refreshments were served. Miss Helen Walters, of Pittsburg, who is visiting Miss Mae Connell, was the only out-of-town guest present.

Mrs. Findlay Entertains.

Most informally, but very pleasantly Mrs. Charles O. Findlay entertained at a small card party from 3 to 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in her home on Mulberry street. The guests were asked to meet Miss Nelle Glass, of Columbus, O. Two tables were arranged for auction bridge and during the afternoon ices and coffee were served.

Enjoyable Meeting.

Notwithstanding the gloomy day without a very enjoyable meeting of the Wednesday Afternoon Card Club was held in the home of Mrs. Henry C. Alexander from 3 to 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Three tables were arranged for auction bridge and at 5 o'clock a salad course was served at small tables. Covers were laid for twelve guests.

Cards Sent Out.

Cards were sent out Wednesday by Mrs. Edward Grandison Smith to a number of her friends for a large card party she will give at the Waldo hotel at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon, February 14.

Birthday Social.

"Aunt Love Wolf" highly entertained a few of her friends at her home at West Milford Tuesday, it being the eighty-third anniversary of her birth. She was at her best being cheerful and happy all day long, recalling many scenes and events of her more youthful days. Although she says "I don't feel old now." At the noon hour all were invited to the dining room, where a most beautiful meal was served by Mr. Bond (her companion.) She was the recipient of many beautiful and useful gifts. Mrs. Porter Maxwell, her niece, deserves special mention as she sent the delicious "birthday cake" and many other sweetmeats which were a delight to all present. Those who enjoyed her hospitality were, Mrs. Mary Frances Price, Mrs. Mary Ladwig, Mrs. Helen Mundy, Dr. Susan Dew Hoff, Miss Shada Ladwig. All left wishing her many returns of the day.

District Convention.

The seventh district convention of Rebekahs convened here Thursday in an all-day session at the Independent Order Odd Fellows hall on Main street, beginning promptly at 10 a. m. Bessie Golden, president, presiding. Fannie Cecil, president of the Grand Assembly, being present also. There are eighteen lodges in this district, but owing to so much sickness only ten were represented. The usual routine of business was transacted. The officers for the year were elected as follows:

Sallie Rector, of this city, president. Mollie Hapling, of Adamston, treasurer. Bessie Golden, of Bridgeport, secretary.

A grand dinner at noon was served in the banquet room by Golden Rule Rebekah Lodge of this city, and they surely do know how to serve every thing good. The convention will meet at Wallace in June. All left at 5:30 voting Clarksburg a good place to enjoy themselves. Those attending were Fannie Cecil, Parkersburg; Mrs. James Johnston, Marietta, O.; J. E. McCoy, Marietta, O.; Ella Harbert, Wallace; Elsie Schneider, Wallace; Mary Fawcett, Fairmont; Hester Satterfield, Fairmont; Ada Pitts, Wolf Summit; Viola Morris, Enterprise; Sarah Randall, Shinnston; Cora Bee, Salem; Bertha Tate, Salem; Gladie Divers, Salem; Ida Steel, Salem; Mrs. Wash Smith, Weston; Bessie Golden, Bridgeport; Lena Fitzhugh, Bridgeport; Hattie Parson, Bridgeport; C. H. Taylor, Bridgeport; Edna Bartlett, Bridgeport; Sarah James, Walkersville; Iva Pickens, Adamston; Nora Sullivan, Adamston; J. A. Tichenal, Adamston; Mrs. Herbert Sullivan, Adamston; Hattie Cummins, Lost Creek; George Fullerton, grand warden, Morgantown; Mollie Halpening, and Sallie Rector, Adamston; Sadie Guhn, Ethel Martin, Ethel Billingham, Minnie Day, Savina Anderson, Rose Dawson, Myrtle Thorn, M. S. Riley, De Mayo, Lena Fleming, Minnie Smallwood, D. A. Brown, Mrs. E. J. Kersting, Ella Billingham, Icie Williamson, Hattie Kelley, Maude Verkey, May Curran, president; Effa Queen, Ira Queen, Bertha Ballentine, L. E. Ward, Louise Watson, T. A. Brown, Alta Clemens and Mrs. R. E. King all of this city.

Jellies Are Popular.

The Wheeling News says the following about Mr. and Mrs. James Jelly, who formerly played here: "Have you heard the Jellies?" This is the favorite query among Wheeling's movie friends. They refer not to jelly such as a kiddie might like on a good slice of homemade bread, but rather to Mr. and Mrs. "Jim" Jelly, who have been playing the pipe organ and piano at the Virginia theater. Mr. and Mrs. Jelly play the two instruments at the same time. They are kept busy playing selections requested by the audience. To hear them "Rag the Scale" is worth the price of admission. Just as at Steubenville, where they played in the past, many go to the theater just to hear the Jellies play.

Surprise Party.

A delightful surprise party was given recently in honor of Mrs. L. R. Fortney, Rosebud.

Those present were Mrs. Kate Hall, Mrs. Lilly Fortney, Harry Pansy and Lena Garrett, Bonnie and Autie Hedlin, Archie Fortney, Hazel and Hugh Rogers, Virgil Cunningham, Virgil Swiger, Lea Fortney, Clark Griffin, A. J. Rogers, Celeste Boggess, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Williams, Bill Rogers, Violet Cunningham, Mrs. Glen Bates, Mrs. Leola Bates, Lottie, Gladie and Fannie Rogers, Mabel Williams, Clarence Bates, Lota Pigott, Shetman and Seymour Flowers, Lyndal Bates, Flora Fowler, Anna Coffman, Maude and America Husted, Wayne Fortney, Ray and Jacob D. Fortney, Mary Husted, Mamie Fortney, Dessie Husted, Zelma Morris and Joe Hall. Refreshments were served.

Hold Meeting.

The women of the auxiliary of the Christ Episcopal church held their February meeting in the parish house Friday afternoon.

Guild Is Entertained.

The members of the World Wide Guild were delightfully entertained Thursday evening by Mrs. J. D. Hill in her home on Mechanic street. St. Valentine's decorations were pleasingly obtained in the reception rooms and games and other amusements were enjoyed during the evening by the guests in attendance.

At 10 o'clock refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. C. B. Maple, Mrs. Wayne Harding and Mrs. Louis Milan.

Miss Thompson Entertains.

Miss Laura Thompson entertained a number of her friends at her home on Mechanic street Thursday evening. Cards and music were the diversions of the evening and at a late hour dainty refreshments were served. Those enjoying Miss Thompson's hospitality were Misses Dora Behler, Katie Flora, Angeline Flora, Nina Batson, Ona Wilson and Messrs. Edgar Moore, Cecil Owens, Ralph J. Sturm, Russell Burt, George Thompson and Lester Morgan.

Ladies' Aid Society Meets.

"Everything is lovely and the goose hangs high," was the spirit of the Ladies Aid Society meeting held on Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. T. Stealey in the interest of the new Methodist Episcopal church at Stealey Heights. A sufficient number of members was present to transact the business of the session, while others attended the Dr. Morrison lecture to women.

Every effort is being put forth by the society to earn money. This special effort will last until Easter. The members will then, for a time, rest from their church labors and give attention to housecleaning, flower planting and home needs in general.

The diversion of the afternoon was trying to find "do" without an instrument.

The hostess for the next meeting is Mrs. W. L. Rodgers.

To Entertain Club.

Mrs. Harry B. Curtin will entertain the members of the Tuesday Literary Club and the Civic Club from 3 to 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon in her home on Mulberry street. A special feature of the entertainment will be a talk on "Continental Europe," by Mrs. Daniel Shephardson, of Newark, O.

To Entertain Friends.

Mrs. John Craig will entertain a number of her friends from 3 to 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon in her home on Mulberry street.

Enjoyable Reception.

An enjoyable reception was given Friday evening by the Freshman class of '13 in the auditorium of the Washington Irving high school. A basketball game was the special feature of the entertainment composed of the two choice teams of Freshmen boys with Coach Arnett in charge. The Grays won by the score of 11 to 10. Later refreshments were served.

Union Social.

A wonderful success and much enjoyed by the many guests in attendance was the union social given Friday evening by the Christian Endeavor Societies in the First Presbyterian church. Quite a number of members attended from Adamston, Stealey Heights and other churches in the city. Music and games were the diversion of the evening and a pleasing play called "How Not to Do It," was enjoyed by the guests present. At 10 o'clock refreshments were served.

Kappa Sigma P.L.

Chapter, No. 5777, Kappa Sigma P.L. held its regular meeting Friday evening. Dorsey Cole traveled the rough and rocky road to Jerusalem. Reports were made by the different boys as to the number of tickets sold for the Shephardson's lectures and this promises to be a great success. The first of these lectures will be given Sunday morning, "The Call of the Shepherd," and Sunday evening "The Jew of Jerico." These two lectures are free and all are invited. Monday evening "The Way in Old Japan," Tuesday evening, "China and the Chinese," Wednesday evening, "The Home of the Hindu" will be given. Thursday evening the lecturer will give what she considers her best lecture, "On Horseback Thru Palestine." The boys again want to call attention to the fact that the public cannot afford to miss hearing this woman who has been around the world and spent a great deal of time in these different countries, and brings a message worth while.

This is also the biggest task the brotherhood has undertaken and we solicit the support of every church that it may end not only as a financial success, but with a spiritual blessing to all.

Refreshments, served by Mesdames Lee and Charles Stout, consisted of ice cream, cake and coffee. This finished the program for the evening. Each member of the brotherhood, as well as the eight candidates whose names were presented for initiation the coming week are requested to meet in the basement Sunday morning and attend the lecture in a body, and also the same Sunday evening. The chapter also invites the Northville chapter to join it.

Shakespeare Club Entertained. Miss Oda Peterson very delightfully entertained the Shakespeare Club at the home of Mrs. J. H. Nuzum a recent evening at Shinnston. After
